

ENGLISH HERITAGE

GARDENS & LANDSCAPE TEAM INTERN (Ref: 4699)

Salary: £19,913
24 month contract
LONDON

Are you interested in developing a career in the care of historic landscapes?

English Heritage is the Government's advisor on the historic environment. Our role is to champion and care for historic buildings, archaeology, gardens and landscapes. We carry out research, provide grants, advisory and education services, look after over 400 historic properties in the nation's care such as Stonehenge, Kenwood and Osborne House as well as archives and collections.

The Gardens & Landscape Internship is designed to give newly qualified graduates experience and training in historic parks and garden conservation to help their career development.

The 24 month Intern is a key member of the Gardens & Landscape Team based at the English Heritage's office in London. The Intern assists with research, standards, policy, gardens curatorial and presentation projects, and provides administration and financial management support; and during the course of the internship is responsible for his/her own projects.

The Intern will be working with specialists in historic gardens and landscapes, horticulture, landscape management, planning and conservation and other professionals and with many organisations ranging from Government bodies, to voluntary sector trusts and organisations, professional institutes and property owners.

The post is open to new or graduates qualifying in the last two years. Your degree must be in landscape management, horticulture, conservation, or similar subject. The 24-month post offers work experience and training in order to re-enter the job market or to complete your degree at the end of the English Heritage contract.

English Heritage is looking for an enthusiastic, self-sufficient individual for the 2013-15 internship. The post holder must be able to work on their own and with a wide range of people and other professions, both within English Heritage and other organisations. The job involves travelling around England, days, and sometimes several nights a week away on site work/projects.
