GILLESPIES

Gillespies is an award-winning landscape architecture and urban design practice with over 50 years' experience in masterplanning, landscape design and environmental planning.

Gillespies has built an international reputation for consistently delivering places that respond to their community, have a high regard for the quality of their environment and acknowledge their physical and cultural context.

The practice works across a wide range of sectors including residential, cultural, leisure, office, transport, infrastructure, healthcare, education, and have delivered some of the largest commissions available to the profession, working broadly across Europe, the Middle East, China, South East Asia and North America.

Notable projects include the RIBA Stirling Prize shortlisted NEO Bankside, Bradford City Park, MediaCityUK, a new home for the BBC in Salford and Crossrail Station Roof Garden.

We are looking for talented graduates and year-out students to join our teams in London, Leeds, Oxford and Manchester this summer.
