

Landscape and Engineering - the essential civil partnership?

a talk by Sue Illman

President of the Landscape Institute
Honorary Fellow of the Society for the Environment

Wednesday 5. February 2014
18:45, Room TC001, FCH Campus
University of Gloucestershire, Cheltenham

An annual lecture held in honour of John Simpson, former colleague and friend of the Cheltenham course

THE JOHN SIMPSON MEMORIAL LECTURE

This is the first of the annual memorial lectures to be held in honour of John Simpson, former colleague and friend to the Cheltenham Landscape Architecture Course, and who died a little over a year ago. We are extremely grateful to Catherine, John's daughter, who has generously agreed to sponsor the lectures allowing us to invite speakers expert in the combined fields of landscape architecture and civil engineering, John's original qualification.

It is with great pleasure that Sue Illman, President of the Landscape Institute and former student of the Cheltenham course, has agreed to give the first lecture.

